

HOME AGAIN

I have returned to my "first love," Maury county, and am now associated with William B. Foster Produce Company, 104 East Seventh street, where I will be more than pleased to see my old friends and all new ones, and promise to pay you the highest dollar for your eggs, butter and all kinds of produce.

From my past experience of fifteen years, handling such commodities and being in constant telegraphic communication with markets both East and South, I can and will pay every fraction of a penny the market will justify.

Come and shake hands whether or not you have anything to sell, you will find a cordial welcome awaiting you.

Telephone, Bell 33; Citizens 34.

TO ENTERTAIN STATE TROOPS

NASHVILLE WILL PLAY HOST TO SOLDIERS SATURDAY NIGHT ON CAPITAL BOULEVARD.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., June 29.—The real spirit of the capital city of the Volunteer state will be manifest Saturday night when the city of Nashville will entertain the Tennessee troops after they have passed in review before Gov. Rye and Adjutant General Rogan on Capitol Boulevard. From 7 o'clock until 11 Saturday night the 2,100 Tennesseans who have responded to the call of President Wilson to go to the front will be the guests of the people of Nashville.

The subcommittee for the entertainment of the Tennessee troops will be announced today by the committee of three chosen yesterday by the Commercial club. The committee chosen by the club is composed of Thomas W. Wrenne, J. M. Overton and Eugene Shannon. The committees will be named from the different subsidiary organizations of the Commercial club and other civic organizations, and women's clubs and organizations.

The entertainment which will be in the nature of a public reception and promenade will be held on Capitol boulevard. The boulevard will be closed to traffic, and will be appropriately decorated for the occasion.

The committee was selected at noon yesterday at the Commercial club. It went immediately to Camp Tom C. Rye and conferred with Col. Carey F. Spence, who agreed on the plans of the entertainment. The two regiments of infantry, one troop of cavalry, the ambulance company and the field hospital, will be reviewed by Gov. Rye and General Rogan at 7 o'clock, and until 11 o'clock the troops will be the guests of the city.

LIBERAL WITH HER VIEWS.

"Mrs. Fluddub says she loves to exchange views with intellectual people."

"Works on a liberal basis of exchange, too. She will give you ten of hers for one of yours."

EVIDENTLY IN LOVE.

"She has his photograph on her dressing table."

"Yes, and I really believe she looks at it nearly as much as she does at herself."

GUILTY TO HAVING SWORN FALSELY

CHARLES MANN SENTENCED FOR CRIME EIGHT YEARS AGO.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 29.—Pleading guilty to a charge of false swearing eight years ago, Charles Mann, a sewing machine agent, was sentenced in the city court to spend six months in jail. Recently Mann was acquitted of the charge of detaining a woman against her will, his accuser being Mrs. Ollie Stinch. This hearing, however, resulted in his being identified as the man who gave false testimony in a damage suit being tried here in 1908. Mann got away from the court officers and crossed the river. According to his own admissions he has made his residence in New Albany, Ind., ever since, and although he resided hardly more than three miles from the Louisville court house, he had not been molested in all that time.

BORDER TROUBLE KNOCKS OUT RACE

NEW YORK, June 29.—Preparations for the transcontinental aeroplane race which was to have taken place in September, starting from the Atlantic Coast, have been discontinued because of the Mexican situation, it was announced Wednesday by the Aero Club of America after a conference attended by representatives of the club, the War Department, manufacturers of aeroplanes and a representative of Ralph Pulitzer, donor of the trophy. It was stated that the race is called off "only for so long as the international possibilities may require."

It was agreed, the announcement said, that the Government "needs every available skilled pilot either on the Mexican border or in training camps teaching others to fly."

A CORRECTION.

The executive committee of the Sociological Society of Columbia, instead of the society itself, as erroneously published yesterday, will meet this evening at eight o'clock in the Sunday school room of the Methodist church.

The time and place of the meeting of the society will be fixed by the executive committee and announced later.

INSPECT STREETS IN DIMPLE CITY

PARTY OF MURFREESBORO OFFICIALS HERE TO GET SOME POINTERS.

Mayor G. B. Giltner is heading a party of Murfreesboro citizens and officials who are here today to inspect the streets of Columbia, ascertaining how the abutting property tax law is operating and generally to find out all of the facts about street construction here to guide them in their efforts for similar improvements in Murfreesboro. It is planned to build streets in the metropolis of Rutherford by the abutting tax law and full details of the practical operations of the act here will be furnished to Mayor Giltner and associates by Mayor Dedman and the officials of the city.

The party looked over the streets and this afternoon will have a conference with Street Overseer Thomas F. Friel, and Connor J. Aklin, the chairman of the street committee of the board of aldermen. There are in the party besides Mayor Giltner, H. O. Parker, superintendent of streets; S. S. Brown, B. L. Sims, James Clayton, B. B. Kerr, O. C. Cook.

NASHVILLE MAN KILLED CHILDREN

JOHN FUDGE HELD BY PENSACOLA POLICE—WIFE KILLED SELF HERE.

PENSACOLA, Fla., June 29.—John Fudge, coming here from Nashville, was locked up Wednesday, formally charged with the murder of his two little daughters, 11 and 7 years old, respectively.

The children, with their hearts pierced with rifle balls of small calibre, were found dead in the home of Fudge on the outskirts of town by neighbors, and the allegation was made that the oldest child had killed her sister and then committed suicide. Later developments, however, led to the arrest of Fudge, who was alleged to have caused the death of the children, he being the beneficiary in life insurance policies.

Fudge's wife several months ago died suddenly in Nashville and after that he moved his family here. The children had been left alone at the home. The bodies were found by relatives.

NEWS FROM HOGWALLOW.

The Dog Hill preacher will lecture on screechy shoes next Sunday.

Yam Sims says every time Miss Frutie Allsop washes her face she gets wrinkles on the towel.

Dock Hocks has purchased a looking glass which is to be used when he wants to talk to himself.

When your train of thoughts approaches a gloomy crossing blow your whistle and open the throttle.

We are sure of one thing; the sun will rise tomorrow morning, but we are not sure we will be here to see it.

Raz Barlow shot at Jefferson Potlocks on Musket Ridge Tuesday, but Jefferson is deaf and has not heard of it.

Poke Easley believes that everybody has been given two ears to enable him to hear both sides of the question.

The Dog Hill preacher announces that he hasn't any political belief, and will vote according to the dictates of his conscience and his congregation.

Jefferson Potlocks has discovered that a large bump of cautiousness is developing on his head since he engaged in a fight with Standard Hancock at Rye Straw.

The drove of snails that the mail carrier reported to have overtaken on Musket Ridge five weeks ago, have arrived in Hogwallow and this week they are passing the postoffice.

Miss Hostetter Hocks is getting ready to play for the musical entertainments and yesterday took her accordion to the blacksmith shop to have it charged with wind from the bellows.

Yam Sims started out to walk to Rye Straw yesterday, but as he had made a mistake and got his right shoe on his left foot, he got mixed up in the direction, landing away over at Lizard school house.

The thermometer at the home of Washington Hocks got out of fix Friday morning and registered eighty-one degrees below zero. As a consequence Wash and his family are threatened with pneumonia.
